For the grown-up

For ages 2-4: 5 minutes together, nothing else to prepare.

IN THIS SAMPLE

The cards for days 1 to 4 (two cards per page) and the big tree to color, for days when you want to keep going.

HOW IT WORKS

One card a day, whenever suits you. Read the “For the parent” line, then say the “Say” sentence to your child.

YOU'LL NEED

Chunky crayons or markers. Scissors for the grown-up: each page cuts into two cards along the dotted line (grown-ups do the cutting, never the child). Color or black and white, regular paper.

ANSWERS

Day 2: 3 ornaments. Day 4: the odd one out is the snowman.

1 The star on the tree

5 min

For the parent: Hand over a yellow crayon and show where the star goes: right at the top of the tree.
To say: "Color the star yellow!"

grown-ups do the cutting

2 Count the ornaments

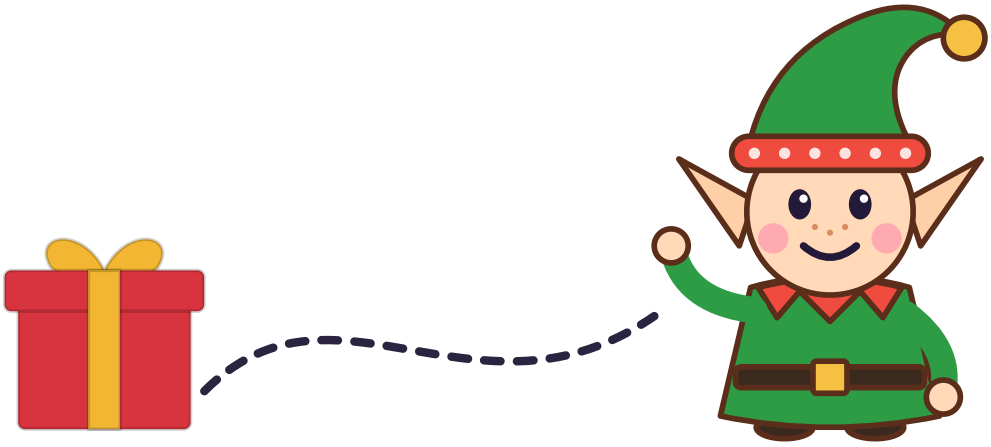
5 min

2 3 4

For the parent: Count the ornaments together by touching them with a finger.
To say: "How many ornaments? Circle the right number!"

3 The elf's gift

5 min



For the parent: First have your child trace the dotted lines with a finger, then with a pencil.
To say: "Bring the elf his gift!"

grown-ups do the cutting

4 Spot the odd one out

5 min

For the parent: Show the pictures one by one, then ask what the odd one out is called.
To say: "Which one is not a tree? Circle it!"

The big tree to color

Bonus coloring pages, for days when you want to keep going a little longer. Thick lines, for little hands.
